Francine Sippel, therapist, became Chrissy's, therapist when she became clinically depressed, as I did, when Duane Kavanaugh failed to cure her mother of depression.

Defamation of character using the other Andrew Fischer's records and Reputation to "frame" me in front of my wife and children as an alcoholic. This new evidence came to my attention in April 2009, so the time to file should start over and must be filed by April 2011. Medical Mal-Practice intensifying Shirley's illness and causing Chrissy and me to go into clinical depression, angering Shirley rather than curing her and thus destroying our relationships and our home. Chrissy got Francine Sippel as her therapist after she went into depression who angered her at me so she broke my car antenna. They were hired to cure Shirley of depression and to build up our relationships. But they just tore us apart instead. Chrissy and Mark are in dire need, have mental problems and can't support themselves adequately. It was undue agitation and false accusations by the therapists, to anger and scam us.
